

CREATE HOPE, GHANA

$25 can provide:

- › A food package for a family of five for over a week.
- › Weekly meals for five children for one month.
- › Water for three families during drought season.

$50 can provide:

- › Weekly meals for 10 children for one month.
- › Sanitary napkins for 16 girls in Ghana which are essential for them to stay in school.

$75 can provide:

- › Safe drinking water to nine families in our program during drought season.

$100 can provide:

- › Sanitary napkins for 32 girls which are essential for them to stay in school.
- › Weekly meals for 20 children for one month.

$125 can provide:

- › Monthly cost of spiritual discipleship of 300 children.
- › A food package for a family of five for one month.

$250 can provide:

- › A food package for two families of five for one month.
- › Safe drinking water to 30 families in our program during drought season.

$325 can provide:

- › A weekly meal for 300+ children.

$1,250 can provide:

- › Monthly cost for weekly meals and food packages for 300 children and families
- › Education fees for one University student

$2,500 can provide:

- › 3-wheel electric tricycle for Jonathan, the Program Director's, transportation.

$3,500 can provide:

- › Education fees for three University students.

$5,000 can provide:

- › Annual water trucks in Ghana during the drought season.

$15,250 can provide:

- › A new well for a community.

Bringing hope and love to vulnerable children and their families living in extreme poverty in northern Ghana.

WHY TAMALE

Northern Ghana is a region deeply impacted by poverty, where agriculture is at the mercy of droughts and floods. Tamale, the capital of this region, sits in an area where 70% of the population is Muslim, with the remaining 30% split between Christians and idol worshippers. In the villages, Christian communities are more common, but traditional practices still hold strong.

The challenges here are profound: school enrollment is low, illiteracy is high, economic infrastructure is lacking, and opportunities for women are scarce. Many women are widows, and when a husband passes away, it's not uncommon for his family to claim everything—the home, the property and, worst of all, the children. Girls, in particular, face an uphill battle, as cultural norms often dismiss the importance of their education, leaving them especially vulnerable.

OUR PROGRAM | CREATE HOPE GHANA

Create Hope Ghana began when Jonathan Haruna and Rhoda Wumbei (now our Ghana Program Directors) met a girl who couldn't attend school due to her family's financial struggles and the belief that 'girls don't need education.' The family needed just $1 to send her to school. Jonathan and Rhoda immediately helped and began sharing with this family and others the importance of education for girls.

Today, Create Hope Ghana is assisting over 600 children and their families with nutritious meals, quality education, mentoring, and a supportive community. Jonathan and Rhoda are also helping widows and their children find secure homes. Their work is driven by a deep love for Christ, motivating them to share the gospel and help others discover and pursue their God-given potential.

JONATHAN HARUNA AND RHODA WUMBEI Directors of Create Hope Ghana

Jonathan and his beautiful wife Rhoda are natives of Tamale, in the northern region of Ghana. God has blessed them with a daughter named Josephine.

Jonathan graduated from the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary with a diploma in Ministry and a certification in Christian Apologetics from Biola University. Rhoda is a graduate from the Tamale Technical University with a diploma in Hotel, Catering, and Institutional Management.

Jonathan and Rhoda are passionate about spreading the love of Christ and the good news of Jesus. Over the years, Jonathan has served in many communities in the Tamale region to restore hope to the hopeless and the vulnerable through education, inspiration, and restoration. Rhoda uses her knowledge in catering to provide nutritious meals to vulnerable children every week.